New 6 Track EP from Adam Tunji Gree Me Face on CD Release Now •••>

He started out as a performer in Art College with the group Sleek and with Mr Kool. He also performed as a solo artist singing covers of Artists ranging from Colonel Abrams, Gregory Isaacs, Kenny Rogers, Norwood, to Kool and the Gang. The team work with the Music students and Fine-Art students was invigorating and productive.

The song writing started from his early high school days while hanging out with Tavian. This he morphed into scriptwriting for comic strips and animation videos, which he still does. Song writing took a new turn with the formation of RKFM records in December 2003. He has explored genres ranging from Acoustic, Cheese Dance, Alternative and Rock. As a lyricist, he has also co-written some fine songs with Rick Veronese and Linda Nordstrom .

The West Coast of Africa is his new ground for musical exploration. This has brought about his own flavour of Afro-beat and Fusion.

Adam Tunji was the voice-over artist for the Nigerian Seoul Under 17 World Championship Team NTA advert campaign. Darn good, the boys won that year being the the first under 17 FIFA World Cup hosted in China 1985. Chris Nwoko gave him his break as a paid Voice-over Artist with ABS Radio Enugu reading short stories.

The stage show aint bad either.
